

Ines Kolleritsch

short bio

Ines Kolleritsch is a 22 year old singer, composer, pianist and bandleader, born and raised in the South East of Austria, now living and developing her career as a musician in the centre of Austrian Jazz, Graz. Drawing upon elements of Jazz, Pop, Neo-Soul and R'n'B music, Kolleritsch has spent the last five years specialising in a diverse repertoire of musical styles. She is currently working in different bands and projects: The world vocal trio "Maravica", the groove-pop band "KAIKO", the swing-jazz quintet "Swingwagon", a new R'n'B and HipHop formation and two other projects based in Mallorca/Spain and Bogotá/Colombia. In 2017 she released her first album with only original music, followed by another one in February 2018 with her vocal trio. This year in June she will be celebrating another album release with "Swingwagon".

Her solo-program is based on her newest compositions which is inspired by female jazz-singer-songwriters all around the globe.
